

Bodies of igneous rock

The mafic magmatism can be shown to post-date the sialic magmatism by the principles of cross-cutting relationships, inclusions, and superposition.

This document shows names of bodies of rock, but the area above additionally illustrates that the principles of cross-cutting relationships and of inclusions can become one at the margins of plutons.