

Making a structural cross section VIII: missing section again

Our correlations in Part VI led to a search for missing section in Well 3 in Part VII. That search suggests that a normal fault is present in our cross section. The next thing to do is to look for missing section in the other wells, and indeed there is demonstrably missing section in Wells 1, 2, and 4.

